DEADLINE

1 All parties, by and through their counsel of record, submit this stipulation and proposed
2 order wherein they stipulate as set forth below and hereby move this Court for a referral for a
3 Settlement Conference to be handled remotely via Zoom in December 2024. The parties
4 stipulate that good cause exists to schedule a remote Settlement Conference as indicated 5 below.

6 WHEREAS the parties have met and conferred that a Settlement Conference would be 7 beneficial in this matter.

8 WHEREAS the parties wish to schedule a Settlement Conference to be held remotely
9 via Zoom to facilitate resolution of the case while minimizing logistical challenges for all 10 involved;

11 WHEREAS the parties have contacted the clerk of Magistrate Judge Carolyn K. Delaney 12 and have determined that December 12, 2024 is available for the scheduling of a remote 13 Settlement Conference in this matter, along with a Settlement Conference that same date in a 14 similar type civil rights matter being handled by the same counsel and involving the same public 15 entity, namely Santos et al. v. Wiest, 2:22-cv-01856 DJC-AC, with similar type stipulation and 16 proposed order to be filed in that matter. In other words, the parties, per Judge Delaney's 17 approval already, plan to conduct two Settlement Conferences with her on that date in these 18 two matters.

19 WHEREFORE, as good cause has been shown, the parties respectfully request that the 20 Court issue an order referring this matter for a remote Settlement Conference via Zoom before 21 Magistrate Judge Carolyn K. Delaney on December 12, 2024, at a time to be determined by 22 Judge Delaney's calendar per party input.

23 FURTHER, to mitigate costs and the expenditure of resources, the parties propose that 24 the current pretrial motions deadline of November 12, 2024 be extended to January 24, 2025,
25 subject to the Court's approval, to allow the parties to explore discussions at the Settlement
Conference.
